

In granting licenses for satellite radio, the FCC relied on the express promises by XM Radio Inc. ("XM") and Sirius Satellite Radio Inc. ("Sirius") that their service would be national-only. They would provide multiple foreign language programming, senior citizens and children's programming, etc.

Because satellite radio would be national, local broadcasters would not be harmed.

Now XM and Sirius have blatantly broken their promises, launching "localized" In granting licenses for satellite radio, the FCC relied on the express promises by XM Radio Inc. ("XM") and Sirius Satellite Radio Inc. ("Sirius") that their service would be national-only. They would provide multiple foreign language programming, senior citizens and children's programming, etc.

Because satellite radio would be national, local broadcasters would not be harmed.

Now XM and Sirius have blatantly broken their promises, launching "localized" traffic and weather service in the top twenty-one markets. MB Docket No. 04-160